Doug Ross Overseas Travel and Study Award

Investigator: Dr Edwina Leslie

Purpose:

- This award enables a young veterinarian to travel overseas to attend an international porcine conference and enhance their personal and professional development.

Take home messages:

- The award recognises the contribution of the late Doug Ross (1947–2000), a veterinarian who was passionately involved in the pig industry and mentored many people
- As the recipient of this award, Dr Edwina Leslie from the University of Sydney will attend the European Symposium on Porcine Health Management to be held in Nantes, France in April 2015
- Winning this award provides Edwina with the opportunity to continue her education and build contacts in the international pig veterinary community.

Additional information:

- Applications for the 2016 Doug Ross Overseas Travel and Study Award will be advertised in October 2015
