

R&D Snapshot

2015 Ron Pollard Undergraduate Scholarship Award

Recipient: Samantha Sterndale

Purpose:

- The Ron Pollard Undergraduate Scholarship Award was established in memory and honour of the late Ron Pollard, NSW producer and former president of the Pork Council of Australia.

Take home messages:

- The Award is available to high calibre undergraduates to assist with their study and aims to encourage their career in the Australian pork industry. Recipients of APL's Undergraduate Industry Scholarships are automatically considered for the Award.
- The 2015 recipient, Samantha Sterndale is a student of Murdoch University. Her placement was with the Pork Research Group at the Department of Agriculture and Food WA (DAFWA) where she had the opportunity to experience both pig production and research.
- Samantha has recently begun her Masters study into the 'Development of Nutritional Strategies to Improve Performance of Pigs through Down-Regulation of Stress Responses'.

Additional information:

- To apply for an undergraduate scholarship please visit www.pignet.com.au or contact Ashley Norval at ashley.norval@australianpork.com.au or on 02 6270 8823.

APL Project N/A

