

2023-24 Pork Leadership Course Application Form

Become a leader of the pork industry

APL is excited to announce applications for the 2023-24 Pork Leadership Course are now open, and we're encouraging our future leaders to take part in this development opportunity.

The Pork Leadership Course is a 12 month, APL-funded program which supports its participants to develop as leaders in their respective businesses and wider pork industry.

Workshop dates

November 2023	Leadership camp designed to help the participants bond with their cohort, as well as develop resilience, teamwork, and other leadership qualities.
February 2024	Leadership workshop which will build the participants' presentation and media skills, as well as give them the opportunity to network within the industry.
May 2024	Site visits to farms and other parts of the pork supply chain, and/or to other relevant businesses/industries throughout Australia (or potentially Internationally). Additional workshops on leadership skills.

Please ensure that you have support/endorsement from your business or employer when applying. Expectation for cost share of potential international travel will be communicated at the time of shortlisting and leadership course offer.

Completed applications

All applications must be received by 5pm Friday 1 September. Only applications received by this date will be accepted.

Successful applicants will be contacted by 15 September 2023.
